

Track and Evidence Careers Activity

The screenshot displays the Morrisby Tracker interface for a student named Joseph Stevens. Key features include:

- Gatsby Benchmarks: A bar chart showing progress against four benchmarks: Stable Programme, LMI, Individual Needs, and Curriculum Learning. A circular progress indicator shows 74% completion.
- Work experience: A section titled 'Work experience' with a 'Completed' status, showing a category of 'Student' and a duration of '480 minutes'. It includes an image of students in a workshop and a progress bar for 'Teamwork'.
- Log Activity: A form for logging activities with fields for 'Title' (e.g., 'Visit to Durham University') and 'Description' (e.g., 'Open day visit to Durham to meet with Psychology department and view accommodation options.'). A 'Log Activity' button is present.
- Dashboard: A central dashboard with sections for 'About me', 'My choices', 'Progress', 'Career resources', and 'My to do list'. It also features a calendar for February.

Morrisby Tracker makes it easy to record careers activity and enrichment while logging provision against the Gatsby Benchmarks and SkillsBuilder universal framework. Student voice is captured by the activity feedback tools and the modern 'record of achievement' is output by the Morrisby Learner passport.

Careers activity

Morrisby Tracker has been developed to help schools record and evidence their wider provision, which is so important to student development. These can be careers related activities, but equally can be used to record extracurricular or enrichment activities. Activities are created using an easy-to-use wizard and the system comes with a library of ready-made careers lessons.

Learner passport

Tracker is different from other systems because of its direct interaction with students. They can log their own activities, include skills they have acquired, while including evidence which can be easily audited by teachers. This is combined with other activity and the action plan to create the Learner passport.

Gatsby & SkillsBuilder

An 'activity' can be categorised against multiple Gatsby Benchmark and SkillsBuilder steps. It can also include additional resources such as lesson plans, worksheets, class presentations and Morrisby 'Forms'. This gives structure to plan out your lesson or activity, as well as make it richer and more engaging for students.

Student feedback

For each activity you can decide if you want to capture feedback. This is done via a feedback form, sent by both alert and email, and is the ideal way to evidence the quality of your provision, as well as informing continuous improvement and capturing 'student voice'. The resulting feedback report is ideal as evidence for inspection.

Management system

Data and dashboards

Careers leaders and teachers are well supported with a management system that is flexible and powerful. With multiple dashboards to interrogate data and a student database that makes it easy to see progress by vulnerable groups, classes and cohorts to name a few. Key data can also be downloaded for further interrogation.

Careers plan

Morrisby Tracker includes a tool that enables you to document and output a comprehensive career plan. It comes with a ready made library of careers activities and lessons that you can add to or amend, as well as suggested text that you can use as a starting point for your own customisation. The resulting document not only looks professional but can then easily be added to your own website to meet industry standards (such as DFE requirements in England).
